

PAYMENT AND CANCELLATION POLICY

Payment for the semester (3 months, 12 sessions a $25) is due first day of practice. Refunds will not be given to absent riders, unless you have a note from your veterinarian or doctor. We ride in all weather unless unsafe. We have two “floating” theory sessions per semester, these will be used in place of riding for days when the weather might be extraordinarily unpleasant. If we have to cancel riding beyond those two sessions we will offer make up dates.

We ask that riders try their hardest to commit to their horse, their practice, and their group mates. In the event that you may be forced to miss a session due to unforeseen events we offer the opportunity to make up lost time by joining another group of equal or lower level. It's the responsibility of the rider to confirm availability and schedule their make up session.

It's the group format and commitment to the entire semester that allows the affordable price. The group format and progressive lesson plans also creates a supportive learning environment and fosters accountability, it's a win win!
